Hungarian Anti-Aircraft Barracks

1. Two groups of Hungarian A.A. barracks were found, one about 2 km. north of town, on the east side of the road leading to Sajoszentpeter, the other west of the same road and about 4 km. north of Miskolc.
2. The barracks closer to town occupy an area of about 150 x 200 m. and are surrounded by a barbed-wire fence supported by concrete posts. There are two entrances. The one on the west side, on the Sajoszentpeter road, is guarded by a sentry wearing red collar-patches with winged-gun symbol and armed with a machine-pistol. In the barrack area there are eight 2-story buildings (each 25 x 8 m), two garages (each 50 x 10 m) and, on the north side, another garage (30 x 10 m). New construction is in progress in a strip bordering the road which extends about 1 km. from the southern boundary of the existing barrack area. Here three 4-story buildings, six or seven 3-story buildings, and, behind these, five or six 1-story buildings (garages, etc.) were under construction. The walls and roofs are completed and the plasterers are working on the walls. On the south end of the area there is a 4-story building (30 x 8 m), completed but not yet plastered, where soldiers wearing red collar-patches with winged gun barrels were seen walking in and out.
3. The second A.A. barracks area, farther north, covers an area of approximately 200 x 300 m. surrounded by a wire fence. The entrance is on the Sajoszentpeter road and is guarded by a sentry wearing red collar-patches with winged gun barrels. In the barrack area there are two 3-story buildings (each 50 x 10 m), one 2-story building (35 x 10 m), one garage (70 x 80 m) and two garages (50 x 10 m).
